Questa analisi, tuttavia, ha le sue critiche: secondo i primi autori di questa teoria, il problema della cognizione non è soltanto la relazione tra l'esperienza e la conoscenza, ma anche la relazione tra la cognizione e la società, tra la cognizione e la storia, tra la cognizione e la cultura.

Yksi suurista SEERIA-tilanteiden aiheista on se, että julkisuus ei ole pystynyt tuntemaan uusia hirviöitä.

The SEDNA range has been given an evolution in the SED 2 literature and protection of the range from re-use is proposed. Since SED 2000 includes the four divided with different boundaries and velocity settings for jetted and mixed, co-rotated and fully-merged engines, merging evolution into a single SED 2000 is proposed.

SEIENSA's approach is based on the conviction that sustainable industrial systems and socio-environmental development must be achieved, for truly effective development. Through this approach, SEIENSA has created the SEIENSA Sustainable Energy Program, which is a platform for the implementation of the concepts proposed by the program.

System-based leadership can prove especially effective during times of change and low-quality performance. This study shows the important moderating conditions and a robust measure that can be used to measure "leadership" success, which measures the effectiveness of the system by highlighting the strengths of the quality process. It is ideal for enhancing the performance of organizations but, like many PMSs, it has its limitations.

Scholarship on oral health, gender, income and race/ethnicity has focused primarily on dental caries and tooth loss among low-income groups, while older adults, including dentate elderly, are largely under-researched. This study examined oral health among elderly African Americans (AA) and European Americans (EA) in two metropolitan areas. In both groups, elderly AA were more likely than EA to report missing teeth. In contrast, elderly AA were less likely than EA to report tooth decay.

Since 1993, the Japanese government has been funding research and applied technology in many fields. In particular it has been promoting the rapid development of the Internet with a budget of approximately 10,000 million yen of funds. It is along this trend that the present research interests of professors and students are.
